Introduction to the General Data Protection Regulation – GDPR

Description

This course covers the basic principles as well as current technologies and trends, allowing students to quickly achieve an understanding of what privacy and data protection is and how the GDPR affects organizations.

Classroom Registration Price (CHF)
1200
Virtual Classroom Registration Price (CHF)
1150
Course Content
Module 1: Legal Context of Privacy and Data Protection Module 2: The General Data Protection Regulation: The Main Players Module 3: The House of Data Protection: Foundation and Processing Principles Module 4: The House of Data Protection: Restrictions and Obligations Module 5: The House of Data Protection: Communications and Accountability Module 6: A Short Overview of BS10012 personal information management
Documentation

- Digital courseware included

Participant profiles

- Anyone in charge of handling information in any capacity
- Entrepreneurs who need to have a basic knowledge about Information Security
- Professionals responsible for implementing privacy and data protection governance including:
  - Information Security Professionals
  - Data Protection Officers
  - Security Officers
  - Business Continuity Managers
  - Privacy Officers
  - Legal Officers
  - Compliance Auditors and Officers

Prerequisites

- No prerequisites

Objectives

- Understand the basics of the GDPR
- Know Where to find additional information about and explanations of data protection principles
- Apply the GDPR in day-to-day situations
- Be accountable to the Supervisory Authority
- Know The basic steps that should be taken to implement the GDPR

Niveau
Fondamental
Duration (in Days)
1
Reference
GDPR